Stewardship Thought for the Week

In today's Gospel, Jesus sends out disciples throughout the towns to preach the Good News. We too are called to go forth and preach the Good News to all we come across. There are many among us, maybe even some of our friends and family, who need hear about God's love for us.

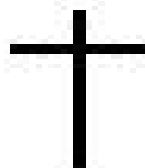

Living Stewardship

This week pray for all pastors, especially those serving in our diocese. Our payers can help them be good stewards of the Faith to all in their parish.

A CATHOLIC GUIDE TO CREMATION

For those of us who have lost a loved one or have participated in wakes and funerals of loved ones, I am sure that we have noticed quite a social change when it comes to death and funerals. Have you noticed that a greater number of people in our country are opting for cremation over the burial of a whole body? The following is a summary of the New York State Bishops guide to cremation as well as an article by Fr. Don Miller OFM entitled "Catholics & Cremation." My hope is that this article will help you and your family when facing delicate decisions at death.

What is cremation? Cremation is the process by which the body of the deceased is reduced to its basic elements. The Catholic Church permits the cremation of the body as long as it is not chosen in denial of Christian teaching on the Resurrection and the sacredness of the human body.

In 1997, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops issued a letter entitled "Reflections on the Body, Cremation and Catholic Funeral Rites." In this document, the Church allows for "cremated human remains to be present at a funeral for a good reason." In the past, Catholics were not allowed to bring cremated remains of a loved one to the funeral mass. Now, however, the church allows for cremated remains at the wake and the funeral mass.

This change came as a result of changing trends of funeral practices throughout the country. According to the Cremation Association of North America, the cremation rate within the United States as of 2015 rose to 48.6%. They predict that by 2020 the cremation rate will reach 54.3%. This means that more than half of us will choose cremation as the means by which a body will be buried. The Church's change on cremation shows her pastoral response in assisting families who chose cremation. The Church still stresses, however, her preference for burial or entombment of the body of the deceased. The reason why is that this is an imitation of the burial of Jesus' body.

When cremation is chosen for a good reason, the Church asks that the full course of the Order of Christian Funerals be celebrated; including the Wake, Funeral Mass and the Rite of Committal (Cemetery). "The preservation of this order allows for the greater expression of our beliefs and values especially the sacredness of human life, the dignity of the individual person and the resurrection of Jesus Christ, the first born of the dead." NYS Catholic Conference

Often, family members prefer to either have no wake or they skip the church all together, thinking that this is the easier and less expensive thing to do. Even though they may not be religious or have been to church often, please remember that your loved ones may desire a funeral mass. That would be their Catholic right to have one. The funeral mass will help assist the soul of the loved one to get into heaven. Also, the funeral mass, is not just for the deceased, it is for you the bereaved to bring comfort, to remind you that you are not alone and that one day you too will experience the beatific joy of Heaven.

One question that you may ask is "what should become of the cremated remains following the funeral?" Church teaching insists that the cremated remains of a loved one should be treated with the same respect as one would have for the body. The cremated remains of a body are buried or entombed, using the rites provided by the Order of Christian Funerals. That means that scattering, dividing and keeping cremated remains in the home are not good practices to follow. The remains of a cremated body should be treated with the same respects given to the corporeal remains of a human body. This includes a worthy container to hold the cremated remains. I look at it this way, would I want the body of my loved one in my living room? The same should be for cremated remains. May all of our loved ones who have died rest in the peace and the mercy of God. Amen.

There will be more of this in my article next week on what we do here at St. Ignatius Loyola. In the meantime, I wish each of you a continued safe and enjoyable summer. May it be a time of renewal and prayer for you and your families. This upcoming week I will be on retreat. Please pray for me as I shall pray for you. May God bless you and Mary keep you and your families always.

St. Ignatius Loyola, pray for us! Fr. Jim

The Patriotic Rosary will take place on Saturday, July 20th at 8am in the Church. All parishioners are invited to attend. Let us sing patriotic songs and continue to pray that we will all live together in peace and harmony and bring an end to this violence and hatred here and aboard.

Pantry Needs

It seems as if summer has arrived all of a sudden. School is out and many are off to vacations. We find that the pantry shelves are barer at this time. As a result, we are very low on canned corn, jarred pasta sauces, peanut butter and jelly, rice, red kidney beans, mixed vegetables, canned potatoes and macaroni and cheese. We are also looking for men's blue jeans--sizes 30 through 34. Donations can be left in the baskets located in the vestibules of the church or brought directly to us at Human Services during our regular hours on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. Please DO NOT leave donations outside of our door in the weather, as those items often are broken into or become wet and unusable. Again, we are overwhelmed by parishioners' generosity. Thank you to all who donate!

COMUNIDAD HISPANA

Para la reflexión

¿He contribuido alguna vez con mis palabras o acciones a crear muerte a mi alrededor? ¿No debería ser mejor portador de la paz? ¿Cómo debería actuar para serlo? ¿En qué debería cambiar para, con mi vida, anunciar la buena nueva del Reino a todos?

Hoy somos nosotros, en primer lugar, los receptores de ese mensaje. Más allá de los desastres que hayamos podido causar en nuestro mundo, Dios nos sigue ofreciendo la vida y la paz. "El Reino de Dios está cerca" y su palabra nos sigue deseando la paz. Como se lee en el Evangelio, en nosotros está la opción de acoger esa paz que nos viene de Dios o de rechazarla. Pero incluso en el caso de que la rechacemos, hemos de saber que de todas maneras el reino de Dios está viniendo.

Pero también somos los transmisores del mensaje. Es el tesoro que Dios ha puesto en nuestras manos. Por eso nos gloriamos en Jesús y hacemos de él el centro de nuestra vida. Y, con nuestra propia vida, anunciamos la paz y la confianza en que Dios es capaz de recrear la vida allá donde nosotros no hemos creado más que muerte.

PRAY FOR OUR MILITARY

Anyone with a family member serving in the military, please forward their name and rank to our bulletin editor at bulletin1859@aol.com or bring the name to our Rectory Front Office.

We pray to give all of our military personnel the courage and strength to do the duty that is required of them. May they always remember our appreciation for the sacrifice they are making for us. We are thankful for the men and women who are willing to risk their lives to protect our freedom. I ask You to go with each of them and protect them wherever they go. Amen.
